We use the word stolen advisedly we think: for it had not been returned to its wonted niche in the desk: neither had report been made as to its finding. We were much concerned at its theft: and yet it had been one of the cheapest variety, costing not over five cents. It had been purchased at the hands of an ordinary street mendicant. Marketed by a pauper; and stolen by a Chinaman. We have consulted the oracle since, dear reader, and determined that, after all, that pencil did not belong to us. It had come to us vitiated by the dust of poverty; and had gone to the goal, in nowhere, only oriental travelers with smelling-bottles dare venture upon. It had not been a desirable possession at either end of its destiny. It had been worse than nothing. We shouldn t recommend the getting of more like it at any sort of bargain. It had been an unlucky pencil. We were well rid--but stop. We had employed that pencil in the signing of chit-cards. These of course had been meal accounts--we patronize the bar on rare occasions only, if at all--and hereby hangs a tale. As we reached the finale of our prologue, there came the usual morning breakfast-knock on our door. We were served in our rooms: that is, the writer was. We hadn t reached Mufkins sufficiently yet to warrant record of his daily habits. Our garcon had...
